

Pastor Steve Williams | God of the Impossible | 07.02.2023
Replay message at: <http://www.northpointeFL.org/messages>

- In Hebrews 11:1, the writer defines faith as “the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen.”
  - Do you agree with this statement? What would you add?
- In this week’s message, we discussed having faith in the God of the Impossible. However, if we’re honest with ourselves, our faith is often more aligned to the God of the Improbable, the God of the possible, or even the God of the manageable.
  - Which of these does the Hebrews passage most align with?
- When people look at your life, do they see an impossible faith?
- Read 2 Kings 6:8-17. How is Elisha’s faith different from the servants?
- How would your faith be different if you saw the complete resources God has at His disposal?
- Rick Warren says “We only believe in the parts of the Bible that we obey.” One might reword that to say “We only have faith in the God of things we understand.”
  - Why is having faith that goes beyond our understanding so difficult?
- What “impossible” thing are you facing this week? How might your faith grow through that?

GoDeeper: Stress

- Looking for Biblical practical ways to deal with the battle of stress? Check out the “Jehoshaphat & The Battle” series on Instagram @nextstepwithgod. These ten 90-second videos help unpack specific steps towards dealing with anxiety.
- While we know that prayer is necessary to dealing with stress, what exactly does that look like? Check out this video and download to learn more.

Video: <https://vimeo.com/725340138>

Download: <https://northpointefl.org/wp-content/uploads/2022/06/Ripple-Prayer-Model.pdf>